LEE SET FOR ONE-WAY

Mayor Signs Approval Of $50,000 Grant

City Councilmen Tuesday night authorized Mayor Robert Weems to sign the city's acceptance of a $52,931.70 Federal grant for a city sewage filtration plant.

Signatures also went in place on certificates from both Cameron banks signifying savings deposits of city bond money set aside for later use.

The Council granted speedy approval of an ordinance changing North Lee St. to a south one-way street between East 11th and 10th Sts.

Approval and first reading followed a request voiced by Dr. David Shapiro, school board member, that the street be made one-way to insure greater safety for Ada Henderson grade schoolers.

Action Set April 11

The school board moved for the safety measure in a meeting April 11.

A motion by Councilman Charles Brady was approved calling for a real estate agent to locate suitable property for the proposed city filtration plant. Richard Williams was named the city's representative to obtain land or property options for the plant.

Deadline for filing Cameron's acceptance of the federal sewage plant grant is May 1.

The grant comprises 30 percent of the cost of its construction. Councilmen pointed out that the plant must meet state health requirements before the U. S. will allow the grant.

Also approved was a management arrangement for the municipal swimming pool.

Councilman Lincoln Mondrik suggested that a large arched pole be placed at Fourth and Fannin Sts. to support a state-approved blinker light. He said the pole could be installed without obstructing right-of-way.

Reply Requested

The Council also asked that a letter be sent to the State Highway Department explaining the reason for placing a stop sign at Batte and College. A recent accident prompted the installation, councilmen said.

Dr. Shapiro reported that progress in the city health picture was due to the diligent efforts of Dr. John B. Bryson, county health officer. Co-operation between city and county health officials brought about the discovery of a typhoid carrier and serious tubercular case, he said.

New councilmen Mondrik, Richard Moseley and Hayden Lawrence took the oath of office to begin two-year terms of office.

And Roy Griffith was elected mayor pro tem.

Coaxial Movie Bid Gets City Approval

Easy chair cinema is not far off for Cameron.

Manager Dean White, Cameron Theaters, Inc., received immediate city council approval Tuesday night for a permit to transmit motion pictures to the television screens in Cameron homes.

Television movies will be piped by coaxial cable to local patrons who purchase transmission of White's movies directly from his city theater to their homes.

His request brought forth the first Cameron ordinance of its kind in which he was granted a franchise to operate the movie-TV entertainment combination.

Councilmen heard the first reading of the ordinance which will become law after a second reading and publication.

Bigbee Reports Street Costs In Half-Year

Public Works Supt. W. D. Bigbee gave the city an outline of operating economy Tuesday night as he reported street department costs during the last six months.

He compared the average monthly costs of street department maintenance of his report period with monthly costs averaged during the 1951-1956 period.

His report said that actual monthly operation costs during the past six months were $791.25 less than monthly costs over the five-year period.

His estimate for 1957 compared to average yearly costs during 1951-56 showed a savings of $9,494.76.

He pointed out that present operating costs were "well within the present budget of $23,807.60 and should allow the city to make a capital improvement of some $4,000 on a storm sewer."

The public works director said that redesigning of Country Club Estates, Adams Avenue and the West Third St. sewer-line saved Cameron about $5,000.

In comparing gasoline consumption at present costs, Bigbee pointed up a savings of $1,613.33 with the present cost $1,524.96 compared to the previous five-year average of $3,138.29.

Coffield Construction Files Low Housing Bid

Coffield Construction Co., Rockdale, was the low bidder Thursday for the 50-unit Cameron Housing Project with a bid of $472,438.72.

Narvie L. Caperton, chairman of the housing authority, said that 13 were opened.

Camp Construction Co., Austin, was second low bidder and the Temple Housing Corp., Temple, placed the third low bid.

Building To Begin Soon

Caperton said construction will begin within 30 days after contracts are let. Final approval of the Federal Housing Authority, Fort Worth, will precede letting of contracts.

Two developments will be constructed. A non-white development of 14 units will go up on West 12th St. while a 36-unit white development will be constructed off North Travis near the city limits.

Units will vary from one to four bedrooms dwellings built in duplex form. The structures will be of brick and stone outside and cement block inside.

Rent will average about $27.50 per month.

All Facilities Included

The developments will include shrubs, landscaping and accompanying streets and sewage lines. All facilities will be included.

Caperton said similar projects have been built in other Texas cities of Cameron's size or smaller and that a number of large cities are building the low-cost housing.

This new kind of television movies is actually in the production stage in only one city in the nation, Bartlesville, Okla., White said. Several other applications have been filed in Texas cities for the service.

"The service in no way interferes with regular television reception," he said. "We merely attach the cable to an unused channel in your set."

The cost? White said no rate has been set, but it will be payable on a monthly basis.

"There are uncertainties, of course, in this new entertainment medium, but we are motion picture exhibitors and if this medium meets with public acceptance and seems practical, we want to bring it to our patrons," he said.

YHS Actors Win 3 'Best' Awards

Yoe High School dramatic actors recently won three "best" awards in one-play acting in district competition, but won second place.

Best actress awards went to Nita Archer for her portrayal in "Special Guest" presented in district at Stephenville. Best supporting actor honors were won by Make McDermott while Barbara Young was named best supporting actress.

School officials were puzzled as to why with "best" awards, the YHS play, directed by Mrs. Beatrice Wieser, did not win district first.

Other players in the play were Jeff Burks and Emory Camp.

Good Friday Services Set For 12 Tomorrow

Cameron congregations and ministers will join in three-hour Good Friday Easter services tomorrow at The First Methodist Church.

The worship service, beginning at noon, will be highlighted by meditations and pastoral messages centering around the seven last words spoken by Christ on the cross.

Concerns To Close

Most Cameron businesses will close their doors during the Good Friday services from noon to 3 p.m.

The Rev. Richard J. Bradshaw asked that worshippers enter or leave the continuous service during singing of the hymns or intermissions to avoid interruption of prayer and pastoral messages during the afternoon.

The Good Friday service is one of a traditional line of services long held in Cameron, he said.

The Rev. E. J. Davis, pastor of the First Methodist, will open the service with a call to worship and consideration of Christ's first word, "Forgiveness." Following will be discussions of the six other words by city pastors.

Pastors To Lead

Participating will be The Revs. Aubrey F. Russell, First Baptist Church; Bradshaw, Episcopal vicar; John Solomon, First Presbyterian Church; H. M. Bowley, Gospel Tabernacle; and B. L. Laughlin, Assembly of God.

Rev. Russell will lead a period of prayer and meditation and give the benediction.

The congregation will sing a number of familiar hymns during the services including "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "In the Hour of Trial" and "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross."

Topics of the pastoral messages include "Pardon, Love, Loneliness, Human Need, Triumph and Reunion."

Missile Exhibit To Appear Here

Would you like to see how a guided missile tracks down and destroys enemy aircraft?

A pictorial sequence showing the effectiveness of the family of Army guided missiles is among the exhibits in the Army Mobile exhibit, scheduled to visit Cameron today.

Career opportunities in the Army antiaircraft command, featuring training in electronics and missile work, occupies a prominent spot in the exhibit unit. The free exhibit will set up at Main and Houston on April 18.

Two Will Enter State May 2

Cameron Wins Team Title

Two Yoe High School literary competitors will go the state finals in slide rule as they led Cameron to the unofficial team title in the Regional Literary Scholastics, 65 to 55.

The girls senior tennis team Tuesday scored well to take second place in regional tennis competition. Yoe tracksters collided with regional track powers and failed to score on Stephenville's Tarleton College track.

Franklin Moore and Ruth Matyastik won first and second respectively in slide rule to lead literary winners.

68 Teacher Contracts Up For Board Approval

Cameron Lions Nominate New Club Officers

The Cameron Lions Tuesday nominated a new slate of officers for 1957-58 with Jack Prescott receiving the presidential nomination.

The group will be announced for the positions two more times before the election is held in two weeks, according to Lion George Bowman.

Nominated were: first vice-president, Jimmy Wiggs; second vice-president, Ben Magness; third vice-president, Richard Williams.

Tom Boyd was nominated for secretary-treasurer, the Rev. Richard Bradshaw for tailwister and Bill Marek for liontamer.

Director nominations included: first year director, Charles Brady, Sr.; second year director, S. D. Rippley; and third year director Bill Crockett.

Following the weekly luncheon the group was told by President Louis McKee that Linda Jane Miller has been accepted for the Lions Crippled Children's Camp, Kerrville, for the fourth consecutive year.

One other application from Cameron for the two-weeks summer camp is pending, McKee said. The summer camp, sponsored by the Lions clubs of Texas, offers crippled children outdoor activities each summer.

About 20 Cameron Lions and guests attended the dinner.

School Fathers Hold Policy Of Non-Integrated Sports

City school board members will resume the April 11 meeting 8:30 p.m. today to consider contracting 50 white and 18 Negro teachers for the 1957-58 school year.

Highlight of last Thursday's meeting was continuance of Cameron High School policy of not playing integrated schools in athletics.

The board agreed to delay answering a letter from the Killen school system asking whether Cameron would play Killen's integrated conference gridiron squad next fall.

One Negro player was on the Killen squad in spring practice. Poll Decides Move

They followed the majority voice of a poll taken of Cameron students' parents who voted 76 percent in favor of not playing integrated athletic squads.

New board member, Mrs. Dana Monroe, and re-elected incumbent F. W. Vogelsang took the oath of office to round out the new school board.

They won the top two places April 6 in a city school vote. Herbert Colburn retired from the board, he said, to make way for board members having school-age children.

Board members told Stanley Hughes, local contractor, to continue checking cracks and structural defects in Yoe High and Ada Henderson School and report his findings.

Also approved was the verbal resignation of William C. Black who had planned to teach mathematics in YHS.

Besides re-electing board officers by acclamation, the group appointed three men for the school equalization board and three alternates. Board officers are chairman, H. B. Pressley, J. Max Howard, secretary, and Earl Curtis, vice-president.

Equalization members are Milton Schiller, Buck Angel and E. L. Wied. Alternates will be O. G. Tumlinson, Bartel Crenan and C. W. Hendrick.

The summer recreation program got the go ahead as Leo Jackson, Willie Anderson and Ann Hinyard were hired to direct the program.

Rotation Talked

Vogelsang suggested rotation of personnel, but the board agreed to continue appointments on a yearly basis. The program will begin June 1 and last until July 30.

Youth safety prompted board approval of a motion to ask the City Council to make North Lee St. from East 11th to East 10th south one-way.

Councilmen said the danger of two way traffic at Ada Henderson when children were going to and from parents cars called for the measure. The Council Tuesday night approved the request.

Dr. David Shapiro, board member, pointed out that a move to See School Board - Page 12

Talasek Files For Damages

State Rep. Reuben Talasek has filed a $250,000 libel suit in Bell County District Court against Bassel Wilson, Cameron businessman, and Herald Publishers Don Scarborough and John Cardwell.

The Temple representative's suit followed publication of a front-page story March 14 in The Herald.

The suit was filed by Cox, Brown and Daniel, Temple law firm. It asks $200,000 in actual and exemplary damages from both the publishers and Wilson. An additional $50,000 in damages is sought against Wilson alone.

The Herald story reported a judgment against Talasek of $64,484.92 on evidence of promissory note mortgages and checks held by Wilson.

On Editorials...

A question on editorials came up the other day. Why or why not write editorials? What is their purpose in the weekly newspaper? To interest... to motivate... to inform? It is all of these, of course.

The Herald accepts these reasons to discuss editorially current local topics that deserve public consideration.

But The Herald would like you, too, to present views on issues of public import. We would like to see Herald readers share their views in letters to the editor.

The editorial page should be a meeting place, a sounding board for reader and editor alike. There is no two-way communication if we just write editorials. After all, an editorial is one man's opinion. Our government is molded from the opinions of many.

It follows that your letters will give us opinion of county-wide scope.

An editorial page also reflects the personality of a newspaper. It lends to its individuality. But an editorial page, no matter how well written, is no more influential than its readers will make it. If fair comment and criticism go unrecognized, they become only a means to fill up space.

If, however, the readers share in the intelligent discussion of various local subjects, we know they are reading and thinking along with us. Agree, disagree... but share your views in your county newspaper.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

To Mail or Not To Mail

Puzzles Johnson Grass Sage

By J. A.

(The Little River Philosopher has heard about the post office controversy, his letter this week indicates.—Ed.)

Dear editor:

I have always figured that two of the fundamental rights of every American was to occasionally get mad at the post office and the home town newspaper, and what brings this to mind is not anything that The Herald or Postmaster John Hays have done lately, but the controversy brought on by Postmaster General Summerfield over the need for more money to keep the post office department functioning up to standard.

As I understand it, the Postmaster General threatened to close all the post offices on Saturdays, including rural free delivery, and to cut out some other post office functions if Congress didn't give the department 47 million dollars more money.

Mr. Summerfield said the post office was going in the red and the only choice was to get more money from Congress or curtail some of its services.

Now this is a new idea in government, and while I would hate to see the mail carrier fail to show up at my neighbor's mail box on Saturdays, I'd like to say it has great possibilities.

For example, take foreign aid. Everybody knows it's costing us tax payers a lot of money to keep the rest of the world happy, and if Sec. Dulles could come over to Postmaster General Summerfield's way of thinking, he could threaten to cut down on this aid unless Congress gave him more money. This might not make the rest of the world happy, but think what it would do to you and me.

Or take any other department of the government. Any time it got in the red, all it'd have to do is cut down on some of its operations, even to the point of letting some men off. I'll admit this is including rural free delivery, and contrary to our way of life, that any time a country or a family is living beyond its income the thing to do isn't to cut down on spending but to borrow more and drag out the time payments longer, but it's something to toy with.

However, it could be carried too far. Take farming. It wouldn't work there. When a farmer finds he isn't making enough, he doesn't cut down on his services. He plows longer and tries to multiply em.

Maybe the post office department can cut down on its services when it's going in the hole, but you apply that to a farmer and the grocery shelves in town would soon be bare.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

This Week's Sermon Emphasizes:

Immense Import Of His Death

By Rev. Aubrey F. Russell

Pastor
First Baptist Church

The death of Christ was an event so tremendous no one can fully comprehend its significance. Yet we know that the light of God was there. Man must ever return to the significant events of Passion Week. His Death and Resurrection, like the pilot to charting his course by the fixed stars.

Calvary is both a Divine event and an event of time involving man. We do not see God here merely at His best and man at His worst. We see each as He is in His deepest nature and characteristic. God is moved with Holy, compassionate love to reconcile man. Man is moved in his sinfulness, weakness, hopelessness and rebellion against God's call to repentance and reconciliation.

It is significant that the Gospel writers gave as much space to recording the events of this last week in His life as they used in recording all other teachings and events. Their emphasis centered here.

The casual reader will even notice that in the Acts of the Apostles the focus of all their preaching and teaching centers here.

Paul gloried only in the Cross. Notice how all his preaching turned to this and from the Cross he moved out to other events. This is central in the New Testament.

The death of Christ for us may not be fully understood or explained. Who has entered into the treasures of meaning wrapped in the words Atonement, Propitiation, Redemption, Ransom and "He was made sin" or "He was made curse"?

Can not all of us see this much that at Calvary The Saviour was doing something absolutely essential for man—something which no man could ever do for himself. There He gave Himself for sinners—that's us—that sinners might come into fellowship with God.

Fellowship can never be forced. It is always personal and voluntary. The Prodigal Son must come back to the Father. There is no fellowship as long as the "Prodigal" is in the far country living and delighting in sin.

TP&L Joins In Research Of A-Energy

Texas Power & Light Company has joined with ten other electric light and power companies operating in Texas in forming the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation, W. W. Lynch, TP&L president has announced.

The Foundation, a non-profit organization, is to engage in research in the atomic energy field as it applies to the generation of electric power, Lynch said. The program will not include an atomic energy power generating plant at this time.

"Texas Power & Light's active interest in atomic energy as a fuel source for producing electric power dates back from the beginning of its release by the AEC for domestic use," said Mr. Lynch.

"In June, 1955, the Company employed the full time services of a scientist assigned to the study of nuclear energy. Three months later, Texas Power & Light Company secured an access permit which entitles designated TP&L officials to receive confidential and restricted data from the Atomic Energy Commission." The eleven electric utilities which form the Foundation, Lynch explained, will carry on research and development work in the nuclear field in a program designed to assure for Texas the benefits which develop from this new source of energy.

New Amendment Bolsters Laws On 'Hot' Checks

AUSTIN—An amendment to the Texas "hot check" law that makes employers liable for paying employees with checks that "bounce" has been signed into law by Gov. Price Daniel.

Charles T. Lux, executive vice-president of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, said the new amendment closes a loophole in the "hot check" law. "Until this amendment was signed, a retail business or any other place of business that accepted worthless checks presented in good faith by workers had practically no legal recourse to recover its loss," Lux said.

Under the new amendment employers who give checks that prove to be "hot" are subject to criminal prosecution and may be fined up to $2,000 and sent to jail for 30 days if the amount involved is less than $50. If the amount of the worthless check is more than $50, then the penalty is from two to ten years in prison and a fine up to $10,000.

Lux said there were several hundred cases in Texas last year where employers paid off their workers with worthless checks causing the places that cashed these checks to lose thousands of dollars.

Spring Cleaning Passe Home Specialist Says

COLLEGE STATION — Spring, or fall house cleaning, for that matter, is fast going out of fashion, according to Minnie Bell, extension home management specialist. It's a killing job when all of it is done at one time.

Smart homemakers are learning that they will look and feel better, and appearance of the home will always rate tops if some of the special cleaning jobs are planned throughout the year, along with the regular cleaning.

Plan Ahead
Women are both managers and workers in most homes. Even women with maids will get more for their time and money if they plan ahead.

Good management means choosing the best time to do a job, choosing the easiest method, and keeping supplies and cleaning equipment handy and in good condition.

Keep plans simple and flexible, suggests specialists. Start by listing the jobs that need to be done. Decide when they should be done and make a schedule. If family members help with cleaning, decide who will do each job.

Try Check List
Work out the best method for doing each job. Ask yourself "what do I do and why?" Answer by checking the way you work. Chances are you will be able to eliminate steps and cut down on walking, standing, carrying, stooping and reaching.

Decide what tools and supplies will be needed for the various jobs. Locate them in the most convenient places. Small equipment and supplies can be assembled in an open basket or box with a handle which can be carried easily from room to room. Convenient cleaning closets save time and energy and keep equipment in good condition.

A new age of automobiles begins with this car

Touch a button—in less than a minute the steel top disappears magically into the trunk—and you're in a supremely elegant convertible. It's two cars in one!

Here Today! The FORD SKYLINER — world's only Hide-Away hardtop

Once in a long, long while a car comes along that people remember and talk about for years after its introduction.

The first model "A" Ford was such a car...

The first Ford V-8 was such a car...

The first Ford Thunderbird was such a car.

Today Ford Division is proud to announce still another car that many say is destined to become the most famous Ford of all: The Skyliner—world's only hide-away hardtop.

If you plan to buy a new Ford, or already own one, the fact that Ford created this car is important to you. For all the exhaustive research, planning and testing that went into the Skyliner is evidence of the engineering skill you get in every Ford model.

The Ford SKYLINER, the only all-steel hide-away hardtop, is a car for history. This is an old dream of Detroit, a dream of two generations of motorists.

And today Ford has made that dream come true—in steel.

But the story behind this dream is a story of men who refused to accept "no" for an answer. In the Ford tradition they kept striving toward the goal long after others had given up the chase.

To understand this Ford spirit you must go back to 1908. That was the year when many Detroiters smiled smugly as Henry Ford announced, "We will build a motor car for the great multitude... so low in price that no man making a good salary will be unable to own one."

And they did.

Today, nearly a half century later, Ford continues to cause the "experts" to change their tune. When you see this all-steel hardtop that retracts into a convertible, you'll be seeing a car that many said would never be mass-produced.

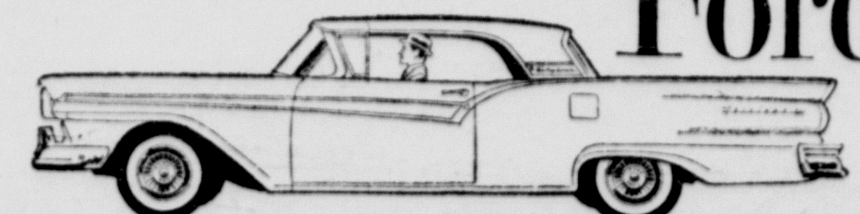

But Ford did it.

It was December 1956—after eight years of research, planning, experimenting and testing—when Ford unveiled this masterpiece... unveiled it amid all the pomp and splendor of the New York Automobile Show.

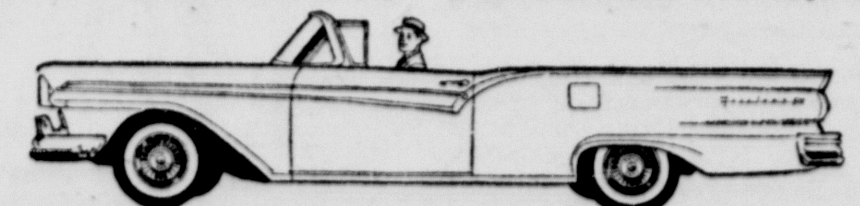

And now this history-making car, this prototype of a whole future generation of cars, is ready for your own personal inspection in the showrooms of many Ford Dealers.

Plan to see it soon. And ask your Dealer to show you the exciting advances in all models of the new Ford line for '57.

It's the newest new kind of Ford

1. It's an all-steel hardtop with sleek Victoria styling... 2. Touch a button and presto! It's a sun-loving convertible!

Forty-two voices blended in stirring melody Sunday afternoon as the Cameron Community Choir presented Lawrence Keating's "The Resurrection Morn" before a large audience.

Mrs. J. S. Hickman directed the Easter cantata sung in the sanctuary of The First Methodist Church Cameron.

The chorus responded beautifully to Mrs. Hickman's interpretation of "Great the Golden Morning" to climax the almost hour-long presentation. There was notable enthusiasm both in choral face and voice befitting the musical description of Christ's return from death.

Women's Chorus Blends Well
Also inspiring was the women's voices blending of the lovely "The Garden." And the opening choral number, "O Ne'er Was Such A Morning," set the reflective mood for the entire program.

Tenor Phil McCall sang the recitative "Wherefore Do Ye Sing?" following the opening number after which Hilliard Thomas began reading narrative passages that skillfully linked the choral presentations.

Following baritone Ladis Marek, Jr.'s rendition of "The Son of God," the chorus sang the familiar "When I survey the Wondrous Cross."

Chorus and soprano soloist Mrs. E. J. Davis, Jr., preceded the number with their presentation of "Have Ye Not Heard?"

Mrs. Robert Matthews sang a soprano solo, "Angel Tidings" while alto Mrs. Bill Crockett interpreted the melodic "The Magdalene."

Other choral numbers included "Come Ye," "O Carol Ye" and "Be Not Faithless But Believing."

Mixed Quartet Sings
A mixed quartet preceded the climactic closing number with "The Sunset Road." Members were Mrs. Stanley Fikes, Carroll Green, Jr., Mrs. Seth Corley, Jr., and Marek.

The Easter theme was triumphantly portrayed in an organ-piano prelude by Mrs. H. S. Thomas and Mrs. Jack DuBois. Mrs. Thomas accompanied choral and solo numbers throughout the program.

Choir members are:
Nita Archer, Mrs. Julian Baskin, Jeff Burkes, Emory Camp III, Mrs. Seth Corley, Jr., Mrs. Bill Crockett, Mrs. E. J. Davis Jr., Mrs. Eddie Dodson, Diane DuBois, Mrs. Jack DuBois, Mrs. Stanley Fikes, Paul Freeman, Carroll Green, Jr., Roy Griffith, Mrs. Marlin Harris, Mrs. Bill Harsha, Mrs. Denton House, Dorothy Johnson, T. More petroleum moves over
Santa Fe than over any other railroad in the country

The 2,384,000,000 gallons of petroleum that Santa Fe moves every year is the river that flows on wheels.

It's so large that it makes Santa Fe the No. 1 petroleum railroad in the country.

This flood tide of oil gives heat and power to farms, factories, military installations and homes all over the nation.

The tremendous demand for petroleum, in all its forms, poses special problems for Santa Fe. For it requires speed and service to keep that river flowing full force. Here are a few of the ways we get the job done:

We move empty tankers just as fast as full ones, so no vehicle will stand idle.

As new oil fields are opened up, we stand ready to serve them. And when new developments take place within the industry, we adapt ourselves to take care of them.

As an example, take liquefied petroleum gas. The demand for it has skyrocketed in the last 10 years, because with this "bottled gas" rural families can cook and heat with gas just like city people. And the railroads have made it possible for them to get it.

Santa Fe runs special LPG trains when the demand for this product requires it. In a year, these trains carry enough LPG to heat over 500,000 homes from November through April.

This is just a part of the story of the dependable transportation service Santa Fe is providing to essential industries that contribute so much to the welfare of our country.

New Enlistments In Guard Here

Local National Guard Unit officers of Battery C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion at Cameron said today that it was continuing to fill its vacancies, and reported three more enlistments were made in the organization last week.

Other recent developments in the unit, they said, includes one reenlistment and the loss of two of its members, an officer and a sergeant.

The officer was Lt. Borden C. Ward, who transferred to a guard unit in Belton, Battery D, 649th AAA Bn, when he moved from Cameron. Ward, who is employed by the Texas Power and Light Company, was transferred to the company's office in Moody several months ago and now resides there with his wife and two children.

Sgt. Frank E. Bonura was discharged from the unit this week since he has moved to Richmond and was unable to transfer into any near-by guard unit. Bonura was a veteran of World War II with service in the C-1 Theater in the Air Force, and had been a member of Battery C for almost a year.

Battery C officers report the reenlistment was made by Sgt. William K. Leonard. Leonard is assigned to the Battery's Gun Section and re-upped for his second three year term. He resides in Cameron with his wife and young son and is employed by Alcoa in Rockdale.

The three new guardsmen were listed as Leon R. Terry, Gene K. Baird and Howard S. Drummond. All are students in Milam County schools. Terry is a Cameron resident; Baird and Drummond are from Thorndale.

VA Advises Ways To Avoid Refunds After Payments

Veterans receiving federal benefits can prevent overpayments and having to make a refund by reporting promptly and accurately any changes in income or dependency status, Dr. George T. McMahan, manager of the Veterans Administration Center, Waco, said today.

"When an overpayment is made to a veteran based on incomplete or inaccurate information furnished by the veteran," Dr. McMahan pointed out, "the Veterans Administration is obligated to recover the overpayment, often at the cost of hardship to the veteran."

Veterans attending schools or in training should make sure the monthly certificate of training is complete and accurate before signing Dr. McMahan said. If the attendance record is inaccurate, an overpayment may result. This must be recovered.

Veterans receiving service-connected disability compensation most often receive overpayments because they fail to report changes in marital status or number of dependents.

Prompt reports of divorce or remarriage, and births or deaths will enable Veterans Administration to keep its records current.

Statutes limit such pensions to totally-disabled single veterans, or widows with no children, whose income does not exceed $1400. For married veterans, or veterans with a child or children, and widows with a child or children, the limitation is $2700.

Make a regular health checkup a family affair. According to present estimates of the American Cancer Society, cancer will strike in approximately two of every three American families.

Extension Specialist Warns . . .

Pastures No Tougher Than Other Crops

COLLEGE STATION — Pastures will take no more abuse than any other farm crop, says Extension Pasture Specialist E. M. Trew. High producing pastures can be unprofitable, he adds, if utilized improperly or given poor grazing management.

A sound forage program that will meet all needs for grazing, hay and silage requires considerable planning. Trew says the number one consideration is the use of plants adapted to local soil, climatic and livestock conditions.

While the best quality forage is always more desirable for any livestock and especially dairy cows, hogs, or poultry, Trew points out that some types of animals can get along on lower quality forage much better than others.

Good Seed Is Starter
Proper pasture establishment gets a strong initial boost when good quality seed are used to insure better stands. Planting the right amount of seed at the right time on a well-prepared seedbed will put the finishing touches on this phase, Trew asserts.

Recommendations call for planting in a band above a fertilizer band placed 2 to 3 inches below and to one side of the seed. Soil may be firmed with a press wheel at or after seeding.

Don't start grazing until naps are well established, Trew warns, and always stop grazing at the right time. Overgrazing reduces production. Practice rotation grazing, he urges.

Crop Rotation Pays
It means the use of a high percentage of available grazing; rest for plants between grazings; use of plants when palatable and nutritious; and the use of growth not needed for grazing as hay or silage.

Properly grazing and fertilizing adapted plants is the best means of weed control, Trew says, and vigorous pasture plants will greatly reduce this problem. Weed control becomes unprofitable in cultivated pastures not containing good stands of adapted desirable plants.

Other tips in a good forage program include planned seasonal grazing; proper fertilization; proper irrigation; and the use of pastures in cropping systems. See your county agent for assistance in making your plans, suggests Trew.

Farmers Should File Allotment Forms

It will be to the advantage of all farmers with cotton, peanut and wheat allotments to sign form M. Q. 31 at the ASC office, County Agent J. D. Moore said today.

This form is a request to preserve acreage history regardless of whether or not you intend to plant your 1957 allotment. It will also help preserve our county allotment.

Filing of the form does not guarantee the farm to receive the same allotment in 1958 as was received in 1957 because this will be governed by the county allotment. However, it will guarantee the farm not to lose the 1957 allotment history. Farmers have until June 1 to sign for cotton and peanuts and May 1 for wheat Moore said.

ACREAGE SET OUT

Corn and maize prospects look good. Most of these crops were planted this week. The corn acreage is estimated at 50,000 acres while the maize acreage is estimated 40,000 acres. There should be around 10,000 acres planted to hegari.

Weather, Crop Picture Continues Fair In Milam, County Agent Says

Weather and crop conditions continued fair through the week, County Agent J. D. Moore reported to the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Growing crops enjoyed good soil moisture, he said, while fair weather enabled farmers to plant most of the corn and grain sorghums. Other field work included plowing out weeds and grass.

Oats, wheat and other grain conditions continued good, he went on, with no damage reported during last week. But unsettled weather delayed some hay cutting.

Moore pointed out that early planted corn responded well to the mild weather though some corn in the south Milam showed yellow color due to the excess

SAVING YOUR SOIL

Roy Poe is having success in establishing Bermuda grass on his farm about five miles south of Thorndale. Poe was assisted in making a soil and water conservation plan for his farm by a technician from the Rockdale Work Unit of the Soil Conservation Service in January, 1954.

One field of soils unit 5 class three. (4-12 inches of fine sandy loam over a dense clay; sometimes called mesquite land) was planned to go into Bermuda grass.

This field was low in fertility and organic matter and in order to build up the fertility and water holding capacity it was planted in corn and fertilized heavily.

Today this field is a solid Bermuda grass pasture. No Bermuda was set out or planted. Usually, cattle will bring in sufficient seed to seed the field if there is a patch or two of Bermuda on the place.

Enough Grass Elsewhere

In most old fields that have been turned out to pasture, there is sufficient Bermuda grass growing to establish a stand as soon as the ground has been stirred and fertilized. In fields with low fertility or pastures of low fertility the Bermuda present is so small that it is often times overlooked.

After this experience, Poe prepared a seed bed and planted Hegari last June on about 30 acres of another old field that had been in pasture. He followed the Hegari with corn this year and fertilized it well. About two acres was not planted in corn because the bermuda had made a solid cover on this portion of the field and the balance is from one-fourth to ne-half covered with Bermuda grass.

Plans One More

He plans to work this field one more year and expects to have a good bermuda grass pasture following next year's crop. Bermuda grass does not cut down on the yield of corn and with a little extra work bermuda can be planted in corn or oats each year.

Poe put out about two acres of Costal Bermuda last year. In the midst of the dry weather the Costal was green while native Bermuda was brown.

Poe plans to expand his plantings of Costal Bermuda. This type of Bermuda grass makes more growth and stands more drowth than common bermuda. In planting Costal Bermuda grass 5 to 6 inch roots should be used. After stand will result if the roots are not entirely covered. A potato setter is ideal for planting the roots.

SCS Looks For Big Crop Season In Milam Area

This season shows prospects of being one of the best in several years to establish grass, according to the Milam Soil Conservation Service. Most of the grass that is being put out in this area is in sandy land section. Common or coastal Bermuda is the most popular and also fits the land better than most other introduced grasses tried.

Jack Dubois is now setting out Bermuda sprigs on 32 acres. R. D. Wise has 84 acres of land prepared and will set Bermuda on this as soon as possible. These operators will fertilize this grass heavily and keep it mowed to control weeds.

It is being established under the Conservation Reserve Program and will not be grazed for five years.

One of the greatest problems in getting grass established on cropland has always been the high cost of establishment and maintenance, SCS says. By utilizing the Conservation Reserve Program, the U.S. government will share about 70 per cent of the cost of establishing grasses.

Then the farmer will be paid a substantial amount each year for five years. The program is designed to reduce over-production and get badly needed cover on the fertility depleted and eroded cropland.

Easter Visits Feature 'Out-Of-Hat' Method

Members of the First Presbyterian Church have employed a unique method of choosing church families to visit during Easter week.

Following a dinner at the church last week, the congregation filled out a letter of "things to do" during the Easter visitation after drawing names of other members of the congregation.

The Rev. John Solomon, church pastor, had carefully outlined what the visiting members should do when they make an Easter call.

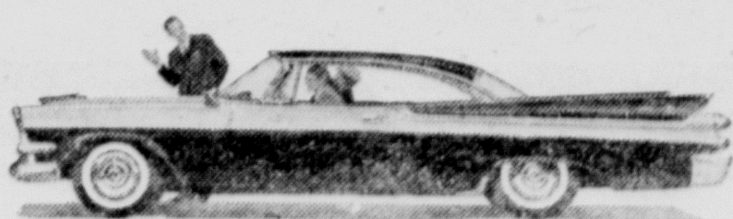

He pointed out that the method was a sure way to get church members to visit one another.

They drew one family per family unit.

The Navy is sponsoring experiments on a plane called the "Flying Barrel" which is designed to fly both horizontally like conventional aircraft and vertically like a helicopter.

Farmers are reminded by Lee Coffey, associate extension agronomist, there is a lot of difference between the various varieties of Hegari which are available for planting in Texas. The agronomist suggests that farmers contact the local county agent for information on the recommended varieties for the area.
